

Second Circular

- What is accreditation with flexible scope?
- Do laboratories need such an accreditation?
- Is it applicable and necessary in all technical fields?
- What is the current situation?
- Where do we want to go?
- What are the needs of notified bodies?

In order to answer these and similar questions EUROLAB aisbl in co-operation with EUROLAB-Cz will organise a workshop on

Accreditation with Flexible Scope - Needs, Current Situation, Future Developments -

4 November 2009
at Technical and Test Institute for Construction Prague (TZUS), Prague, Czech Republic

The aim of the workshop is to give input to the European co-operation for Accreditation (EA) in order to promote and further develop accreditation with flexible scope. Starting with the situation laboratories were faced with three years ago when EUROLAB aisbl organised its first workshop on this topic in Borås, Sweden, the development since then, current tendencies and the laboratories' expectations will be highlighted.
